

Microsoft Office 365 on Mattermost

Extend your team's Microsoft Office 365 experience with a modern messaging platform designed to improve developer productivity.

Mattermost + O365: better together

Office 365 is part of a complex array of applications, tools, processes, and programming languages used in enterprises. Mattermost brings these disparate components together into a powerful collaboration environment designed specifically for software builders and operators, helping engineering teams deliver code quickly and efficiently. The platform makes it easier for your team to access and work with O365 files directly from the Mattermost channel where they collaborate every day.

Easier document collaboration

The Mattermost Collabora plugin allows your team to view or edit O365 files directly from a designated channel in Mattermost.

- Centralize team collaboration on multiple documents
- Improve productivity—reduce context switching
- Increase transparency by tracking conversations alongside edits

Active Directory

Unified user management

Mattermost integrates seamlessly with Microsoft systems for easy account provisioning and greater admin control.

- Office365 single sign-on
- Identity management with Active Directory
- Automatic account provisioning
- Active Directory Synchronization and Groups support

Features that developers love

Go from O365 documents to code and back again in a fluid workflow on Mattermost. Mattermost is built to meet the needs of modern development teams, with ChatOps features that support the way developers today work, communicate, and share code.

- Code formatting for 50+ languages
- Easy text formatting with markdown support
- Webhooks and custom slash commands
- Plugin architecture for building your own plugins
- Compact view to fit multiple messages on screen
- Integration with DevOps tools, like GitHub and Jenkins
- Channel switcher to quickly find and access channels

Take O365 collaboration even further

Mattermost's flexibility gives your development team the freedom to create custom workflows around Office 365 files, as well as their DevOps tools and CI/CD processes so they can speed up development lifecycles and incident response times.

Open source

Mattermost's open core platform means that your team retains control over the service's technical roadmap and your team is free to develop additional features and plugins without restriction. With a vibrant open source community, Mattermost supports 600+ integrations.

Extensibility

With access to source code, APIs, drivers, and a wide array of integrations and samples, Mattermost is highly customizable. Whether it's building custom chatbots or connecting to internally firewalled systems, your team is in total control of your environment.

Security

Mattermost offers modern communication behind your firewall. Deploy to public, private, or hybrid clouds with full access to source code and total control of your data and single-tenant platform.
